The Journal of Geriatric Oncology is an international, multidisciplinary journal which is focused on advancing research in the treatment and survivorship issues of older adults with cancer, as well as literature relevant to education and policy development in geriatric oncology.

The journal welcomes the submission of manuscripts in the following categories:

- Original research articles
- Review articles
- Clinical trials
- Education and training articles
- Short communications
- Perspectives
- Meeting reports
- Letters to the Editor

The Journal of Geriatric Oncology is the official journal of the International Society of Geriatric Oncology (SIOG).

SUPPORTS OPEN ACCESS

Journal of Geriatric Oncology offers authors the option to publish papers open access. See the journal homepage for details: www.elsevier.com/locate/jgo

WELCOME ADDRESS

Dear Colleagues,

As the President of SIOG and Chair of the Scientific Committee of the SIOG Annual Conference this year, I take great pride in welcoming all the attendees of the 19th Conference of the International Society of Geriatric Oncology / SIOG 2019 in Geneva, Switzerland on November 14-16, 2019.

The SIOG 2019 Annual Conference will be a premier event combining a one-day IFA/SIOG Summit 2019 – Global Policy Dialogue on Cancer in the Ageing Population to be held at the United Nations Venue on Thursday, November 14, 2019 followed by a two-day SIOG 2019 Scientific Programme at the prestigious International Conference Centre Geneva (CICG) on Friday and Saturday, November 15-16, 2019.

For this edition of our conference, the science of our discussions and meetings will revolve around the theme of integrative oncology – leaving no one behind. The meeting will provide several types of educational lectures including multidisciplinary lectures around specific tumor types discussing concrete cases backed up by solid scientific background. Oral abstract sessions and poster discussions will be designed to follow three major tracks:

- Solid and hematologic malignancies
- Geriatric assessment and supportive care
- Modern diagnostics and therapeutics

SIOG is the front runner in channelling the knowledge and skills of health professionals to help determine the top priorities and actions in clinical settings for advancing the effectiveness of including geriatric protocols in the treatment and care of our older cancer patients. Continuing the success of previous SIOG Annual Conferences, this 19th edition will once again bring together leading experts, professionals and academics from around the world to exchange knowledge, experience, and insights around cancer in ageing across diverse clinical settings and industries. The conference will feature speakers from among the world’s leading experts in this field, for advancing the understanding and the practice of this multidisciplinary approach.

The SIOG Annual Conference is returning to Geneva, its home, just before SIOG’s 20th Anniversary! Embedded between the nearby Alpine peaks and the hilly terrain of the Jura, the French-speaking city of Geneva lies in the bay where the Rhone leaves Lake Geneva. With its humanitarian tradition and cosmopolitan flair, the European seat of the United Nations and headquarters of the Red Cross, Geneva is known as the «capital of peace».

We welcome you in Switzerland and hope you will find the conference and your stay in Geneva both valuable and enjoyable.

ABOUT SIOG

Who we are

Treatment of cancer in older adults is complex and an ever-growing global challenge for healthcare professionals. Comorbidities, potentially altered treatment tolerance, and variable patient preferences are some of the key issues that affect caring for older people with cancer. The best approach for treating cancer in the elderly has never been more pressing in a context where the ageing population continues to grow at an unprecedented rate.

The International Society of Geriatric Oncology, also known as Société Internationale d’Oncologie Geriatrique in French, (SIOG), was founded in 2000 and was officially registered as a not-for-profit organisation under the Swiss law in October 2012. SIOG is a multidisciplinary society, including physicians in the fields of oncology and geriatrics, and allied health professionals and has over 1.700 members in more than 80 countries around the world. The SIOG network represents over 110.000 patients older than 65 years. SIOG is the leading force in channelling the knowledge and foresights of professionals to help determine the top priorities and actions to enhance the effectiveness of including geriatric protocols in the treatment and care of cancers of the elderly patients.

The founding members comprised of Paul Calabresi, Matti Aapro, Lazzaro Repetto, Martine Extermann, John Bennett, Riccardo Audisio, Lodovico Balducci and Silvio Monfardini.

Our mission and vision

Challenge: Major risk factor for cancer is age, and with the ageing of the world population, a major epidemiologic challenge is ahead of us.

Our goal: To foster the development of health professionals in the field of geriatric oncology, in order to optimise treatment of older adults with cancer.

SIOG promotes efforts through three strategic channels: Education, Clinical practice and Research. These are addressed through the following goals and tools:

1. EDUCATION

SIOG National Representatives

The International Society of Geriatric Oncology (SIOG) counts its National Representatives (NRs) as one of the main active and strategic bodies of SIOG. SIOG NRs play an important role in linking SIOG’s activities with members, institutions and experts around the globe.

As SIOG spokespersons in their respective countries, SIOG NRs take the lead as ambassadors of SIOG’s mission, sharing the same values and pursuing the same objectives, in the joint effort to promote progress and innovation in geriatric oncology.
SIOG MEMBERSHIP

SIOG members share a passion for geriatric oncology. Current SIOG membership comprises of over 1700 members in more than 80 countries and continues to grow. Our current members include scientists, surgical oncologists, geriatricians, medical oncologists, radiation oncologists, psychologists, sociologists, nurses, nurse practitioners, and other healthcare professionals active in the area of clinical practice interested in and/or involved in the management of older patients with cancer.

This year, SIOG is proud to acknowledge the membership anniversary of the following members who have been active within the society for 15, 10 and 5 years. SIOG deeply acknowledges these members for contributing to the SIOG mission and for a continued and unfailing commitment.

15 Year SIOG Member in 2019

- Alexandru Calin Grigorescu (RO)
- Janine Overcash (US)
- Homayoon Sanati (US)
- Ruud van Rijswijk (BE)
- Mária Wagnerova (SK)

SIOG MEMBERSHIP

Membership benefits

- Access the Journal of Geriatric Oncology (JGO) - Pubmed indexed - 6 ANNUAL ISSUES (in print + online or online only, depending on membership status);
- Access the Critical Reviews in Oncology/Hematology (CROH) 12 ANNUAL ISSUES;
- Get involved in SIOG educational activities, in the annual conference and governance;
- Receive a discounted registration fee at SIOG Annual Conference, SIOG Advanced Course and other SIOG Events;
- Vote at the SIOG General Assembly and elect Board members (depending on membership status);
- Participate in Expert Task Forces;
- Receive SIOG Newsletter;
- Network with colleagues from all over the world and share your expertise;
- Submit articles to the Journal of Geriatric Oncology (JGO), the only journal specifically dedicated to this area of medicine called geriatric oncology;
- Benefit from reduced rates on selected publications/books (e.g. ESMO Handbook of Geriatric Oncology, and other ESMO Handbooks);

In addition to the above-mentioned benefits, members have the right to guide SIOG priorities and activities through voting at the General Assembly. The General Assembly is the supreme governing body of the society.

Join SIOG and help us achieve our goals

With your support, SIOG will be able to:
- Improve the quality of prevention, diagnosis, treatment, and follow-up of older patients with malignancies;
- Develop, test and disseminate easy screening tools;
- Increase public awareness of the worldwide cancer in the elderly epidemic.

SIOG NAH Poster Discussion
Thursday, November 14, 2019 - 19:00 - Posters’ Area

Check out the best prospective and innovative studies for each of the SIOG 2019 scientific tracks. The discussion will be led by Kristen Haase and Schröder Sattar.

P068 - Patient-reported symptom burden and association of geriatric assessment (GA) impairments with the symptom burden in older adults with advanced cancer receiving systemic treatment - Eva Culakova (US)
P095 - A survey of the prevalence of long-term systemic anticancer treatment side effects and satisfaction with care in older people living with and beyond cancer - Kumud Kantilal (UK)
P124 - Geriatric nursing education in a comprehensive cancer center - Soo Jung Kim (US)
P149 - Physiological, pharmacological and environmental factors implicated falling in geriatric oncology inpatients: A case control study in a major cancer center - Cassandra Vonnes (US)

Impact of geriatric assessment on survival, function, and nutritional status in older patients with head and neck cancer: Preliminary results of the EGeSOR randomized multicenter controlled trial - Florence Canoui Poitrine (FR)

Geriatric co-management is associated with reduced 90-day postoperative mortality among patients aged 75+ with cancer - Soo Jung Kim (US)

Prehabilitation in preoperative care of prehab as medicine - Barbara van Munster (DE)

Research on Geriatric Evaluation Symposium (Joint Symposium with Young SIOG, Nursing/Allied Health, EUGMS)
Friday, November 15, 2019 - 18:30-19:30 - Room 1

Chairs: Martine Puts (CA) (NAH), Gábor Liposits (DK) (Young SIOG), Claire Falandry (FR) (EUGSM)
PROGRAMMATIC ACTIVITIES

YOUNG SIOG INTEREST GROUP

Young SIOG comprises of young clinicians and researchers, members of SIOG, working in the field of geriatric oncology. This interest group develops and promotes excellence in geriatric oncology in accordance with the SIOG policies and strategy determined by the SIOG Board. The Young SIOG interest group oversees the participation of young researchers in geriatric oncology related activities within SIOG’s scientific, educational and advocacy related projects.

Interest Group Leadership 2018-2020

Young SIOG Activities at SIOG 2019, Geneva

Young SIOG Drinks
Thursday, November 14, 2019 - from 21:00
Following the success of last year’s event, we are organising a Young SIOG Drinks during the conference. The gathering will take place at Ta Cave www.tacave.ch/geneve
Please note that costs are NOT covered by Young SIOG.

Young SIOG Poster Discussion
Friday, November 15, 2019 - 16:30-17:00 - Posters’ Area
Check out the best prospective and innovative studies for each of the SIOG 2019 scientific tracks. The discussion will be led by Nicolò Matteo Luca Battisti, Nienke de Glas, Enrique Soto Perez de Celis and Melissa Loh.
P058 - Our experience of nursing/allied health practitioner-led geriatric screening and assessment of elderly oncology patients: a highly accessible model of care - Darshit Arunbhai Thaker (AUS)
P112 - Comorbidity levels impact chemotherapy treatment in older adults with cancer - Naser M Kh M S Alqurini (CA)
P135 - Prospective evaluation of the G8 screening tool for predicting treatment-related toxicities in Chinese elderly cancer patients - Wing Lok Chan (HK)

Research on Geriatric Evaluation Symposium
(Joint Symposium with Young SIOG, Nursing/Allied Health, EUGMS)
Friday, November 15, 2019 - 18:30-19:30 - Room 1

Chairs: Martine Puts (CA) (NAH), Gábor Liposits (DK) (Young SIOG), Claire Falandry (FR) (EUGSM)
Impact of geriatric assessment on survival, function, and nutritional status in older patients with head and neck cancer: Preliminary results of the EgEsOR randomized multicenter controlled trial - Florence Canoui Poitrine (FR)

SIOG ADVANCED COURSE IN GERIATRIC ONCOLOGY

The overall objective of the SIOG Advanced Course in Geriatric Oncology is to train professionals in the management of elderly cancer patients, providing specific skills in assessment, care pathways and therapeutic choices about the elderly patients with cancer. The goal is to develop the general principles of both geriatric and oncology medicine that are useful to treat elderly cancer patients. The course is organised in conjunction with the Universita Cattolica del Sacro Cuore. The next edition will be held in Treviso, Italy on June 24-27 2020.

The 2019 Advanced Course in Geriatric Oncology took place in Treviso, Italy on June 26-29, 2019 and was attended by 36 participants from 17 different countries.

The SIOG Advanced Course Posters’ Section in the Posters’ Area will showcase the planned projects of the students from 2019 course.

The following activities are organised as part of phase II of the SIOG 2019 Advanced Course in Geriatric Oncology:

- Welcome Coffee and Follow up with Course Faculty and Students

  Friday, November 15, 2019 - during the morning coffee break: 10:30-11:00 - Posters’ Area

  Meet with fellow students and the faculty to share feedback, expectations, improvements, unmet needs in clinical practices. Please note that this gathering is for the course students and faculty only.

- Advanced Course Poster Discussion

  Saturday, November 16, 2019 - during the morning coffee break: 10:30-11:00 - Advanced Course Posters’ Section in the Posters’ Area

  Course students will have the possibility to discuss their posters with the Geriatric Oncology community present at the conference to showcase planned projects after the course.

- Final Wrap Up and Knowledge Assessment of the Advanced Course

  Saturday, November 16, 2019 - 13:30-14:30 - Room 5

  Multiple choice examination of the Advanced Course and the SIOG 2019 Annual Conference plenary sessions. This will conclude the course and allow students to receive their final diploma.

  IMPORTANT: This assessment is mandatory for all course students in order to obtain the final diploma and CME certificate of the Advanced Course.

Interested in attending the next edition of our SIOG Advanced Course in Treviso, Italy?
Please contact events@siog.org to register your interest. Admission will open in January 2020 and full information will be available on our website www.siog.org in due course.
SIOG Advanced Course in Geriatric Oncology: For Improving Patient Outcome

SIOG’s unique CME accredited training programmes are delivered by international experts in the field of geriatrics and oncology. The courses have been designed to meet the educational needs of healthcare professionals involved in the diagnosis, treatment or management of elderly patients with cancer.

The SIOG advanced courses provide the basis of the assessment and the multi-dimensional approach that should be applied to treatment of elderly cancer patients. The course covers general principles of cancer treatment using case-based discussions and debates in geriatrics for clinical oncologists as well as in clinical oncology for geriatricians.

Join us in Treviso, find your mentor, be part of an international network and become the bridge between the oncological and geriatric teams in your institution.

SCIENTIFIC AND EDUCATIONAL PROJECTS

Taskforces
SIOG has developed a series of experts recommendations/guidelines published in international scientific journals (Lancet Oncology, Annals of Oncology, JCO, EJC, etc.) on various topics.

Please visit our website; www.siog.org/content/siog-guidelines for full information.

The taskforces have several published documents:
- Peer-reviewed published articles with the official recommendations;
- Newsletters reporting the preparations of the recommendations;
- Abstracts to international conferences;
- Presentations in programmes of scientific meetings;
- Monographs with relevant educational topics.

Currently, the following guidelines are in preparation:
- The treatment of bladder cancer in older cancer patients;
- Study to estimate the toxicity, dose-intensity, and benefit of anti-EGFR-based treatment in patients with advanced colon cancer according to age;
- Corticosteroids and cancer treatments in older patients;
- The treatment of Acute Promyelocytic Leukemia (APL) in older patients.

E-learning modules
In partnership with eCancer, SIOG has developed a series of online educational activities specifically addressing the special considerations that apply to managing the older patient with cancer. These free, continuing education activities aim to identify patient- and disease-related factors that may complicate treatment and share expert perspectives about strategies and tools for providing optimal care for older patients with cancer.

Visit our website www.siog.org for full details.

Address: 17 rue de Varembé, CH - 1202 Geneva

Name Badges
All participants are kindly requested to wear their name badges throughout the conference. If a badge is lost or forgotten, an administrative fee of EUR 50 will be charged for the reprint of the badge after identity verification with an officially recognised identification document (e.g. passport, driving license, etc…)

Certificate of Attendance
A survey about the conference scientific sessions will be sent to the participants after the conference via e-mail. By filling in this survey and submitting, participants will be able to download their certificates of attendance as pdf documents.

Registration
The registration desk is located on the Ground Level.
Registration Desk Opening Hours:
Thursday, November 14, 2019  17:00 - 19:30
Friday, November 15, 2019  07:30 - 19:30
Saturday, November 16, 2019  07:30 - 18:30

Language
The official language of SIOG 2019 is English. There will be no simultaneous translation available.

CME Accreditation
SIOG 2019 Conference has been granted 12 European CME credits (ECMECT®) by the European Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (EACCME®).
Each medical specialist should claim only those hours of credit that he/she actually spent in the educational activity.
Through an agreement between the Union Européenne des Médecins Spécialistes and the American Medical Association, physicians may convert EACCME® credits to an equivalent number of AMA PRA Category 1 CreditsTM. Information on the process to convert EACCME® credit to AMA credit can be found at www.ama-assn.org/education/earn-credit-participationinternational-activities

Live educational activities, occurring outside of Canada, recognised by the UEMS-EACCME® for ECMECT®es are deemed to be Accredited Group Learning Activities (Section 1) as defined by the Maintenance of Certification Program of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada.

City Information
Geneva Tourism Office (GTO) representatives will be present at GTO stand in the ground floor throughout the conference for providing city information to SIOG 2019 participants.

Information for Speakers and Presenters
All speakers and oral abstract presenters are kindly requested to upload their presentations in the Speakers’ Ready Room (Presidency Zone on Level 1) at least 3 hours prior to the start time of their sessions. If the session is the first session in the morning, please upload your presentation the day before.

GENERAL CONFERENCE INFORMATION

Scientific Poster Display
Posters will be displayed during the whole duration of the conference in the Posters’ Area located on the ground level.

Poster Hanging:
November 14 from 17:00 to 18:30

Poster Viewing:
November 14 19:00-21:00 (during the Welcome Reception)
November 15 10:30-11:00 and 16:30-17:00
November 16 10:30-11:00 and 16:30-17:00
* Presenting authors are kindly requested to be present at their posters according to the timing communicated with presenting authors via e-mail.

Poster Dismantling:
November 16 as of 17:00*.
* Posters that will not be removed after 18:00 will be discarded.

ecancer - Expert Interviews
Following previous years’ success, ecancer, the leading oncology channel, will again provide highlights of SIOG 2019 through scientific interviews of our conference experts. Stay tuned for when the interviews and webinars will be made available on SIOG and ecancer websites.

This service is kindly supported by unrestricted educational grants from Janssen and Sanofi

Coffee Breaks
Coffee breaks will be served in the Posters’ Area at ground level.

Poster Welcome Reception
Thursday, November 14, 2019
19:00 - 21:00 – Posters’ Area

This scientific and networking event is organised with the support of State of Geneva.

Strengthening the health care workforce for older people living with cancer
19th Conference of the International Society of Geriatric Oncology
Integrative oncology – Leaving no one behind

The SIOG 2019 Calabresi Award will be presented at the Presidential Session on Saturday, November 16, 2019 at 15:30 in Room 1.

Marije Hamaker (NL)
Marije Hamaker is clinical geriatrician working at the Diakonessenhuis in Utrecht, the Netherlands since 2010, where she completed her PhD on “Decision making in geriatric oncology” in 2012. Subsequently, she has developed a geriatric oncology clinic and successful geriatric oncology research program, mentoring multiple PhD students. Additionally, she set up a large multicentre project regarding geriatric nephrology in 2014. Her research has focussed on optimizing treatment decisions and patient-centred outcome measures through geriatric assessment. With over 90 Pubmed publications, she has been an advocate for the importance of investing time in understanding the patient’s health status and preferences prior to making treatment decisions, emphasizing that although perhaps time-consuming, this time is well-spent. She is an active member of the Dutch Geriatric Oncology Foundation and the International Society of Geriatric Oncology, and a faculty member of the yearly SIOG Advanced Course in Treviso.

REI ONO (JP)
Rei Ono PT MPH PhD is an Associate Professor at Department of Public Health, Graduate School of Health, Kobe University. He completed clinical experience as physical therapist and completed his MPH and PhD at Kyoto University School of Public Health. His research areas are clinical epidemiology, exercise epidemiology, and gerontology. Promoting healthy lifestyle through exercise and physical activity is his main interest. His work involved in pre-rehabilitation intervention among patient with esophageal cancer before surgery to minimize adverse events following surgery and dual task training for healthy elderly in case to maintain their cognitive functions. Currently, his research focused on investigating the relationship between multidimensional frailty in elderly cancer patients before treatments and adverse events and describing multidimensional frailty in elderly cancer survivors. Of multidimensional frailty, he especially pays attention to cognitive and social frailty.

His abstract: O22 - The high impact of preoperative social frailty on overall survival in elderly gastrointestinal cancer patients.

CASSANDRA VONNES (US)
Dr. Vonnes attended the University of South Florida for her BS, MS and DNP. Her 25 year NP experiences include acute care and outpatient nephrology and cardiovascular medicine. She was inducted as a Fellow of the American Heart Association for her contributions... in cardiovascular medicine. Dr. Vonnes has taught clinical and didactic at the USF College of Nursing for undergraduate and Nurse Practitioner students. Her recent venture into oncology provides an opportunity to use her geriatric expertise as the Nurses Improving the Care of Healthsystem Elders (NICHE) coordinator at Moffitt Cancer Center achieving Exemplar Status. Under Dr. Vonnes leadership Moffitt Cancer Center was the first hospital in Florida to be recognized by the IHI and John A. Hartford Foundation as Committed to Care Excellence for the Older Adult. She has presented both nationally and internationally on Fall and Injury prevention, delirium and geriatric assessment.

Her abstract: O02 - Crafting age-friendly cancer care: a model for improvement utilizing the 4 Ms framework across the continuum of an NCI-designated cancer center.

SIOG 2019 Young Investigator Award

To promote research in the field of geriatric oncology and support the career development of the new generation of experts, the Young SIOG Investigator Award will recognize three young investigators for their outstanding work.

The 2019 Young SIOG Investigators Award will be presented at the Presidential Session on Saturday, November 16, 2019 at 15:30 in Room 1.

Meet Our 2019 Award Finalists:

ZUHAIR ALAM (US)

Dr. Zuhair Alam is currently an Internal Medicine resident at Good Samaritan Hospital in Cincinnati, USA. Prior to commencing his residency training in the United States, Dr. Alam worked in clinical research in Geriatric Oncology under the guidance and mentorship of Dr. Shabbir AliBai at the Princess Margaret Cancer Centre and Toronto General Hospital in his native Canada. There, he participated in several studies surrounding comprehensive geriatric assessments, undiagnosed cognitive impairment, cancer-related fatigue, chemotherapy associated delirium, and self-reported measures of frailty. Through these projects he was able to further establish his passion for developing a medical career with an emphasis on individualized medicine and patient-centered care. Now he is currently involved in research on clinical outcomes of older adults being treated for Multiple Myeloma. Dr. Alam aims to implement these ideals of individualized medicine as he hopes to pursue fellowship training in Hematology/Oncology in the future.”

His abstract: K05 - Cost effectiveness of a geriatric oncology clinic.

JENNIFER L. LUND (US)

Jennifer L. Lund, PhD is an Associate Professor of Epidemiology at the Gillings School of Global Public Health and a member of the Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Dr. Lund is a pharmacoepidemiologist with a research portfolio that focuses at the intersection of aging, multimorbidity, and oncology. She has expertise in the use of advanced epidemiologic study design and analytic methods to generate robust evidence on the uses, benefits, and harms of therapies that inform decisions made by patients, providers, payers, and policymakers. Her research draws upon data from randomized clinical trials, cancer registries, electronic health records, and insurance claims to study: (1) the delivery of high-quality cancer care and (2) the effectiveness and safety of alternative treatment options. She serves as an Associate Editor for Pharmacoepidemiology and Drug Safety and as editorial board member for the Journal of Geriatric Oncology.

Her abstract: K03 - Predicting life expectancy in older adults with advanced cancer: an evaluation of oncologists’ estimates and a geriatric assessment-based predictive model.

ISACCO MONTRONI (IT)

Isacco Montroni graduated at the Alma Mater Studiorum Bologna University Medical School in 2004 and he was then admitted to the General Surgery Program. In 2009-2010 he served as General Surgery Resident at the Massachusetts General Hospital (Harvard University) under Dr Warshaw and Dr Ferguson. Dr Montroni completed his residency in 2010 as he continued his academic career as a PhD student from 2011 to 2013 focused on an international multicenter study on surgical treatment of cancer in the older patients. After his PhD he joined Dr Wexner at the Cleveland Clinic Florida for a clinical fellowship in Advanced Colorectal Surgery (2014-2015). After serving as colorectal surgeon at the Humanitas Research Hospital with Prof Spinelli, he’s currently a staff member of the Colorectal Surgery Unit of the Ospedale per gli Infermi in Faenza. Dr Montroni is the Associate Editor for Colorectal Cancer of the European Journal of Surgical Oncology (EJSO).

His abstract: K01 - Patient-reported outcomes measures (PROMs) in geriatric patients undergoing major surgery for solid cancer: 90-day preliminary report on 643 patients from the geriatric oncology surgical assessment and functional recovery after surgery (GOSAFE) study.
Welcome to MASCC/ISOO 2020

The MASCC/ISOO Annual Meeting, which takes place in Seville on 25-27 June 2020, is the foremost international and multidisciplinary conference on Supportive Care in Cancer.

Showcasing more than double the number of oral presentations compared to previous editions, we welcome all professionals involved in the field to contribute an abstract in one of the official #MASCC20 topics.

ABSTRACT TOPICS

- Antiemetics
- Bioethics
- Bone & Musculoskeletal Issues
- Cancer Pain
- Cardi-Oncology
- Digital Health
- Education
- Fatigue
- Geriatrics
- Hemostasis
- Immuno-Oncology
- Models of Supportive Care
- Mucositis
- Neurological Complications
- Neutropenia, Infection and Myelosuppression
- Nutrition & Cachexia
- Oncodermatology
- Oral Care
- Palliative Care
- Pediatrics
- Psychosocial Survivorship

Submitting before 15 January 2020 gives you a better chance of acceptance for an oral presentation.

2020 MEETING THEMES

- Bioethics • Cardi-Oncology • Models of Supportive Care
- Digital Health • Cancer Survivorship

Early-bird registration will open in November - get ready!

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

SIOG would like to acknowledge the Swiss Confederation for providing the financial contribution to host SIOG 2019 at the International Conference Centre Geneva (CICG). The team from CICG has shown tremendous support to the task and remarkable reliability and we would like to extend our gratitude to all the technical staff who helped the preparations of this event. SIOG is also grateful for the generous contribution from the State of Geneva for the opening ceremony of SIOG 2019. We also thank all our corporate financial donors and sponsors, and look forward to a lasting partnership.

We wish to thank in particular SIOG members for all their cooperation and support in hosting SIOG 2019 in Geneva. We also wish to extend a special thanks to EORTC, EUGMS, INCa, for their contribution to the programme of the conference as well as to ecancer and VuMedi.

A special acknowledgment also goes to the International Federation on Ageing (IFA), for co-hosting the IFA-SIOG Summit 2019 on Global Policy Dialogue on Cancer in the Ageing Population at the United Nations.

Another special word of gratitude goes to all the Track Chairs and co-chairs, Roundtables Chairs and Speakers for their crucial work of selecting and organising the numerous papers and presentations.

The Conference has welcomed participants from many countries and has constituted a memorable event this year, not only for the scientific quality of the presentations but also for the relaxed and pleasant atmosphere created by the warm hospitality of Geneva.

Thank you to everyone for helping us deliver SIOG 2019 in Geneva.

EORTC
Avenue Emmanuel Mounier 83/11, 1200 Brussels - Belgium - www.eortc.org

EORTC is a unique pan-European non-profit clinical cancer research organisation established in 1962 operating as an international association under Belgium law. It develops, conducts, coordinates and stimulates high-quality translational and clinical trial research to improve the survival and quality of life of cancer patients. This is achieved through the development of new drugs and other innovative approaches, and the testing of more effective therapeutic strategies, using currently approved drugs, surgery and/or radiotherapy in clinical trials conducted under the auspices of a vast network of clinical cancer researchers supported by 220 staff members based in Brussels. EORTC has the expertise to conduct large and complex trials especially specific populations such as the older patient and rare tumours. EORTC research network consists of over 5300 collaborators from all disciplines involved in cancer treatment and research in more than 900 university hospitals in over 30 countries. Its research spans the entire spectrum from translational and preclinical research to large, prospective, multi-centre, phase III clinical trials that evaluate new cancer therapies and/or treatment strategies as well as patient quality of life. Currently, EORTC is conducting 213 studies, and thousands of patients (85% from within the EU) participate in EORTC clinical trials. 27,000 patients continue to be followed on a yearly basis and the EORTC clinical study database now contains outcome data for over 200,000 cancer patients.

INCa
52 Avenue André Morizet, 92100 Boulogne-Billancourt, France www.e-cancer.fr

The French National Cancer Institute is a National Health and Scientific Agency in oncology. In charge of coordinating the Cancer Control Plan, the Institute, with its integrated vision of all dimensions of the fight against cancer puts its action at the service of the patients, their relatives, users of the health system, the general population, healthcare professionals, researchers and decision-makers in the fields of prevention, screening, care, and of research. Since its creation in 2004, the institute deploys a policy of research development in the humanities and social sciences, whose contributions allow understanding the practices of the actors (patients, health care giver ...) but also on how to set up new practices. A brief presentation of this strategy will be presented.
